WILL LEAGUE OF NATIONS NEED A POLICE FORCE?

Question That Is Causing Division of Opinion At Preliminaries of Peace Conference.

Paris, Jan. 15.—With the resumption today of meetings preliminary to the Peace Conference, it became apparent that the movement to create a league of nations is being carried on by two forces. One would have decisions of the league backed by the armed physical force while the other believes its findings could be enforced without the aid of a common police force.

The supreme council of the Peace Conference resumed its sessions at 10:30 o'clock with Premier Clemenceau, Foreign Minister Pinchon, President Wilson, Secretary Lansing, Premier Lloyd George, Foreign Secretary Balfour and the Italian and Japanese representatives present.

$400,000,000 Needed To Feed Liberated Countries

Paris, Jan. 15.—The supreme council of the Peace Conference today engaged for the last three days considering the situation in the liberated countries stretching from Belgium to Poland and Armenia, has concluded the minimum sum necessary to feed these peoples until next summer is $400,000,000. The council has asked the associated governments to determine how the money can be provided. The bulk of the foodstuff must come from the United States.

Bolshevism Thoroughly Squelched In Hun Capital

Berlin, Tuesday, Jan. 14.—Berlin's week of Bolshevism has finally ended. Here and there scattered demonstrations, mostly boys, still fire occasionally from house tops and during the night small bands of Spartacists attempted to renew the reign of terror. They are insignificant, however. The losses inflicted on each side will probably amount to 200 dead, a thousand wounded, mostly Bolsheviks.

Vance McCormick Resigns

Washington, Jan. 15.—The resignation of Vance McCormick, chairman of Democratic National Committee, was made public today at committee headquarters with the announcement a meeting will be held February 26, to choose his successor. Reports that McCormick might become Ambassador to France were said in official quarters today to be at least premature. Ambassador Sharp is said to have no present intention of resigning.

COL. HOUSE IMPROVING

Washington, Jan. 15.—A cablegram from Paris today says Colonel E. M. House expects to be up and about in a few days. Sensational reports were circulated about Col. House's condition yesterday.

Mr. J. K. Chaney and family have moved in from Millon and have leased a residence on Fifth street.

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and probably Thursday; not much change in temperature.

Writes From Germany

Miss Sue Forbes, of the White Hall section, received the following letter from her brother, Clarence Forbes, now in Germany with the American army:

November 28, 1918.

Dear Sister:—I just received a letter from you a few days ago that you mailed in August. I suppose you think I was never going to answer it. I don't know why it was so long in coming. How are you all getting along over in God's country? I am feeling fine, getting all I can eat and having a good time. I heard some time ago that E. W. was in France. I sure would like to shake his hand on this side of the world. Sister, I have been living some fast life since July, only staying in one place for a few days. We would go one place and give the Dutch a little round then go back and rest a few days and then go give a round in another place. I sent a money order home a few days ago. Write and let me know if you get it. How is Kin liking army life now? Is he still at West Point? When you write to E. W. give him my address and tell him to write to me. How is Ray Minter getting along? I wrote him a letter a few days ago. How are Mr. and Mrs. Kellums? I have been thinking I would write to them. They were so nice to me when I was with them. I have thought many times of the good advice Mr. Kellums gave me when I was with him and have wished I had listened to him more than I did. I will close for this time. Give my love to all and answer soon. Your loving brother

PVT. CLARENCE FORBES.

AS THOM SEES IT.

Washington, Jan. 15.—A. P. Thom, counsel for the Association of Railway Executives, continuing his argument today before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, for the return of the railroads to their owners said the enormous power given the federal administration could only be justified as a war emergency. "It may be, after five years of control," he said, "Congress may have to buy the railroads to collect the debt."

Others that have ratified the federal prohibition amendment follow: Mississippi, Virginia, Kentucky, South Carolina, North Dakota, Maryland, Montana, Texas, Delaware, South Dakota, Massachusetts, Arizona, Georgia, Louisiana, Florida, Michigan, West Virginia, Maine, Tennessee, Idaho, Washington, Oklahoma, Ohio, California, Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, North Carolina, and Alabama. The number necessary for ratification is 36.

ROCKCASTLE WEED BRINGS 79c HERE

Market Continues With Top Prices For Offerings—Lincoln Tobacco Makes Its Appearance.

Nothing less than remarkable will fit the prices that are being paid for tobacco over the Richmond breaks right now. Old buyers say they never say "the like" before. Crops averaging around 50 cents are the rule rather than the exception, and the end is not yet.

One lot of tobacco grown in Rockcastle county—think of that—brought 79 cents a pound at the Home House this morning.

A lot of fine tobacco from Lincoln county got in last night and will be sold a little later. It was brought here by Messrs. D. M. McDOUGLE'S BOARD STARTS

The new State Schoolbook Commission of which Dr. E. C. McDougle, of this city, is a member, took a step in the right direction at its initial meeting at Frankfort yesterday. No changes in the textbooks of the public schools unless absolutely necessary will be made by the State Textbook Commission, if the advice of Governor Stanley is followed, and his opinion seems to be shared by the commissioners, who assembled yesterday and organized, then adjourned until February 11, to open bids. The commission decided in favor of open sessions, and adopted a resolution forbidding members to hold private interviews with publishers or agents.

PNEUMONIA TAKES WILLIAM MOYNAHAN

Prominent Contractor Succumbs This Morning After Short Illness—Wife and 4 Daughters Left.

Double pneumonia, following influenza, took another well known and prominent Richmond citizen today. Mr. William Moynahan, well known contractor, succumbed to the dread malady which has been taking such toll lately.

Mr. Moynahan had been ill only a short time. He was a man of unusually strong constitution, but the insidious disease quickly undermined his system and he passed away at 7:30 o'clock this morning at his home on Woodland avenue.

An honorable and upright citizen, straight as a die in all his dealings with his fellowman, Mr. Moynahan had many warm friends who will mourn that he is no more. He came to Richmond from Nicholasville about five years ago, and had been successfully engaged in contracting here. He was about 40 years of age and was a faithful member of the Catholic church.

His wife and four little daughters, Josephine, Esther, Mary and Isabel, survived, and have the universal sympathy in the loss of the husband and father. He is also survived by his aged father, Mr. Eugene Moynahan, a sister, Mrs. James Welch, and two brothers, Bernard Moynahan and Percell Moynahan, all of Nicholasville.

The remains will be taken to Nicholasville Thursday morning on the 7 o'clock train and funeral services will be held there Friday morning, followed by interment in the Nicholasville cemetery.

A Richmond Pastor Resigns

Rev. B. F. Petty resigned the pastorate of the Calvary Baptist church, his resignation to take effect as soon as a competent successor can be secured, one to whom he can safely commit this work, to which, for more than two years, he has been supremely devoted and for which he has made the greatest sacrifices. In retiring from the field, Rev. Petty wishes to thank his many friends throughout this and other communities for their contributions, both of time and means, to the success of the work. He also wishes to thank most heartily the Baptist State Board, of Kentucky for their support, and of having recently designated him as Missionary pastor in this field for the year 1919. If this work is to succeed then, as far as possible, all subscriptions made through the retiring pastor and for the building of the new church, will become due and payable, otherwise they will be refunded. Rev. Petty will possibly in the future give his time to evangelistic work.—Contributed.

PAULINE FREDERICK IN "ZAZA"

There are few actresses in motion pictures whose artistry, personality and talents have won for them a large following than that enjoyed by Pauline Frederick, who will appear in a splendid portrayal of "Zaza" here on Thursday. This picture is the celebrated play in which Sarah Bernhardt appeared for many years, it is said, is one of unexampled magnificence. The role of Zaza is one that demands the best efforts of the actress rises heights of power seldom reached by screen actresses. The picture has created a great sensation and it is said to increase the army of Miss Frederick's admirers wherever it is shown.

IGO ADMINISTRATOR

In the county court, Mr. B. M. Igo was appointed administrator of the estate of the late Alex Igo, with Dr. G. G. Perry as surety. J. S. Boggs, W. H. Miller and J. S. Kelly were appointed appraisers.

Only Three More Needed

Chicago, Jan. 15.—The Iowa, Oregon, and Colorado legislatures today ratified the federal prohibition amendment, making 33 states which have approved prohibition of the manufacture and sale of liquor. While 15 states are yet to make a decision on the subject, only three are lacking to make up the necessary three-fourths majority required to ratify the amendment. Meanwhile the Nebraska and Utah legislatures have the subject up for action, probably today, with the prospect of submission of the amendment to five other states' legislatures, all of which are now in session.

Garrard Man Poisoned By Licking Stamps

A special dispatch from Lancaster says that Boone Sanders, dealer, has been seriously poisoned by moistening with his tongue a large number of envelopes containing letters for outgoing mails. The symptoms which immediately followed were somewhat peculiar. For the space of a week he has been suffering from a continuing nausea, entire loss of appetite and a profound fatigue. In the last few days, however, a considerable improvement is noted. A laboratory test to determine the exact nature of the poison is under consideration.

Madison May Get Hun Gun

Madison county will soon receive a captured German cannon to be placed in its courthouse yard, if a bill which U. S. Senator George B. Martin has introduced in congress is passed and there is expected to be little opposition to it. Congressmen Rouse of the Sixth district, Cantrill of the Seventh and Kinchloe, of the Second, have offered bills to get cannon for certain towns in their districts, but Senator Martin's measure covers the entire state. It is understood that Senator Beckham, who is a member of the Senate Military Committee, will be asked to especially co-operate in securing one of the guns for Madison.

SHERMAN TO RETIRE

Washington, Jan. 15.—Bulletin — Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, republican from Illinois, today announced that he intends to retire from public life when his present term in the Senate expires March 3rd, 1921.

DR. CUMMINS MODERATOR

Rev. Dr. W. C. Cummins, of Winchester, yesterday was chosen moderator of the Synod of the Southern Presbyterian church of Kentucky.

February corn $1.32½.

In a few days I expect to get my second permission. This time I hope to go to Nice, a very fashionable and popular winter resort in Southern France, near to the Italian and French border.

Tonight I am at one of our Postes I have had the pleasure of writing by a stove, made under, I guess, what you would call the Hooverization plan for when the fire gets a little low, I just drop another match stem in and she goes right on again, throwing forth heat. I have not had the pleasure of seeing Brussels yet, but I have been in Ghent three times. Ghent, as you know, is a very large city, and it seems that all the people who were before are there still, for the place is very crowded. I had never been in Ghent before. I had never been interrupted. I had used there is mostly German and local currency. The people stare at us there like they used to stare at us in some of the French cities. The ones who can speak a little English never hesitate to come up and talk to us and sometimes invite us out to have tea with them or dinner.

On my way to Nice I expect to pass through Paris and perhaps spend a day or so there. I wish to see Paris once when it is lit up. Several of our fellows, who only a few days ago, came through there, say that it is very beautiful with lights on. But I am in Paris now. Well, I don't suppose I had better tell you about Paris now, save that to tell when I get home.

It might not look exactly right on paper. Now don't worry your mind about what I started to tell you, for that night have been my object for not telling it.

At any rate I think I have written about all I can get into an envelope, so guess it is time to close. If there is any kind of souvenir or anything over here you or any one else who is in the family circle, wants, please tell me what it is. (Now don't hesitate in doing that, and I will try my best to get it for you or them.) All the love and best wishes.

EGGS SELL AT 40 CENTS A PIECE IN BELGIUM

Says Owen Hisle, Who Writes Another Interesting Letter of His Army Life To Relatives Here.

Mrs. Armer Hisle has received a very interesting letter from Private Owen Hisle, brother of her husband, and who wrote from Belgium, where he was stationed with the American army, after the armistice was signed. Private Hisle has seen some of the bitterest fighting of the war and was cited for bravery in battle. His letter will be read with much interest. Cruyschaute, Belgium, Nov. 26.

Dear Zelia:— I started a letter to you just after the armistice was signed, but one thing and the other prevented me from completing it; so will endeavor to do better this time, and finish this one.

The censor's ban has been taken off now, so I can write most anything I desire, except criticizing the officers, systems, etc. But unfortunately now I haven't anything especially to tell. When I returned from the hospital (which was some months ago) to my section, I was lucky enough to find them on a few days repose in a small village by the name of Crouy sur Ourcq, about 10 miles from Meaux, and about the same distance from Chateau Thierry. I had the pleasure of seeing Meaux several times, while I only visited Chateau Thierry once. Meaux marks the Germans' farthest advance in 1914, while Chateau Thierry marks the extreme point of the Germans' final and last great effort to reach Paris in 1918.

Our repose ended on October 7th, when we were started out in a westward direction; some rumors were that we were going to St. Quentin, while others were that we were going to Belgium, which came to be true. While on our way here we passed through the following principal cities—Compiègne, which for a long time had been under the range of the German big guns, was pretty badly torn up and very few civilians had returned to it. From there we continued on to the old town of Beauvais, which we had seen much of last March; for it was there that for five days we took our wounded from the lines northwest of Montdidier. Next we went to Abbeville, a principle base of the British forces. From there we journeyed more to the north to St. Omer, where we spent one night. From there on to Reims, a small French village two miles from the Franco-Belgian frontier. We stayed there for several days, with no place to sleep except in our cars, and the weather was cold and rainy. We were thankful to have cars to crawl in. From there we moved a short distance across the Belgium line to Lion Belge. While there the big Belgian offensive began and our division was a reserve division, so all we had to do was to follow up the advance; that we did for a week or more until we arrived at Thielt, then on the 23rd of October we went into the lines and there we stayed until the armistice was signed.

We are at Cruyschaute now, have been here for two weeks. At first we expected to follow the Germans up and occupy territory north of Cologne, Germany, but now it looks like we are going to return to France, somewhere around Paris, perhaps, for the parade in Paris when peace is signed. That is what we hope to do, for being frank with you, we don't care much about Belgium; the people here are not congenial like the French—roads are awfully bad, everything in general torn up; last but not least, eggs are 40 cents apiece. So you can judge prices on other things accordingly.

(Several days later). We have not moved up yet, but conditions are a little better now. Railroads are being repaired rapidly and a few trains run close to here now. You should see what a complete destruction job the boche did on the railroads around here. It looks as if they had put one ton of bombs under each rail, some of the rails are wrapped around telephone poles, while others are on nearby houses and in the fields; some of the holes made on the tracks by the explosions that it takes ten men a week to fill up.

Our work is not so bad now, as we have only the sick to evacuate, except for occasional and some other casualties and a few wounded. We have only a few night trips now and they are not bad if you are fortunate enough to have lights on your car, for lights are permissible to be used now but unfortunately there are only three or four men in our section who have been able to get bulbs and reflectors for their cars.

Well our work is the least of our worries now, the big question is "When will we be able to get home?" With the signing of the peace our ideals which we fought for will be realized and our duties almost finished, especially the duties of this service, who are with the French. It appears to me as though we will be among the first to get home. Our service as a whole has been the longest duration in France, and our country has been the last to be freed. We have been here for a long time, but we are not tired. (Continued on page 2)

Government Ownership.

The esteemed Lexington Leader often seeks to make it appear that because McAdoo suggests government control of the railroads for five years, that this commits the democratic party to government ownership and other "socialistic isms" as it calls it.
The Leader, however, usually fails to notice the ideas of any number of prominent republicans along these lines. Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin, has just announced that he will soon introduce a bill for the control of railroads by a single corporation, the majority of the directors of which would be named by the government.

If this isn't a species of government ownership, we would like to know what the Leader is going to call it?
And Lenroot, undoubtedly, will not be lonesome in his advocacy of some such plan. What out for Capper, of Kansas, Borah, of Idaho, and some of the other redical republicans, who are apt to go a little further than any democrat ever dared, except, of course the daddy of the whole thing, Bryan, who has had the unfortunate faculty of being about a century ahead of the times on many of the reforms he has advocated.

LOST VALUABLE STEER

able 1100 pound steer with black leg tle vaccinated by Dr. Mainhart and has had no further trouble.

signed as Internal Revenue Collector, chief deputy, Rogers Gore, who will serve until a successor is appointed.

Charles J. Cronan was nominated for the office and his name is now in the ton.

News of the Oil Fields

Federal court decisions handed down recently have settled a number of important cases and will have the effect of stimulating work in various sections. A number of operators have been idly waiting the result of litigation. In several instances the questions up have been decided and work will now be resumed. The Quaker Oil Company's Simpson Crabtree farm which has one well in, will now be drilled up rapidly, since the settlement of a suit over this lease, in favor of the Quaker Oil Company.

Adjoining the Crabtree farm to the north and adjacent to the John Curry, the Quaker Oil Company now has a suit in the Estill county court, in regard to the title of the Millard Cable farm of 240 acres. This refers to the claim of James Cox, who has been living on the tract for a number of years, which is the property of Millard Cable, having been purchased by him.
Cox claims that he went on with the understanding that he was to be allowed to purchase the land. Cable contends that Cox gave a note which he has never paid and has never paid the taxes on same.

On Ross Creek in Estill county, Howell and Zeigler are expecting to begin operations at once on the Emma Hamilton tract which they won by a federal court decision from Senator Hopkins.

News from Powell county is to the effect that the Great Lakes Petroleum Company has spudded in on the Grover Drake near Furnace at Nos. 1 and 2. The same parties are now moving on the U. S. G. Rice lease of 66 acres on Ross Creek and expect to commence shortly.

J. H. McClurkin has returned from a ten days trip to New York and Philadelphia, where he has been in conference with a number of prominent bankers who are preparing to underwrite the consolidation of about 500 acres of producing territory in the heart of Lee county. The new organization will have 12 producing wells, several of which are now settled producers. The amount involved will be around one million dollars, all of which will be taken by Stock Exchange firms. Mr. McClurkin stated that Kentucky oil is highly regarded by eastern bankers and that it was the unanimous opinion that, regardless of any fluctuations that might occur in other commodities because of readjustment to peace conditions, oil and oil products would prove constant and that prices would advance, should any change occur.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

Try This! Hair Gets Thick, Glossy, Wavy and Beautiful At Once

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over your scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents. 1t

Health and Happiness

Women of today seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. Home duties, church duties, war activities, and the hundred-and-one calls for charitable enterprises soon lead women to overdo. Nervousness, headaches, backaches and female troubles are the inevitable result.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which, added to my weak condition, kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness. Health and happiness? Yes, I have both now."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of women nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. Avoid them by taking in time

Only One Country School Is Still Open

With one exception, every country school in Madison county is closed on account of the flu. That single exception is the Kingston school, and it has only seven scholars attending at present, according to County Supervisor J. B. Harris, who keeps closely in touch with the country schools. Reports from various sections of the county are that conditions have improved somewhat in many sections, but the epidemic is by no means under control as yet and ever precaution has to be taken physicians say, as keep it within bounds.

MAY GET A WELL IN TOWN

A dispatch from Mt. Sterling says that the Bradford Oil and Gas Company, of Pennsylvania, is down in a well in the city limits about 300 feet and feel confident for oil and that a good strike will be made. An old well, drilled here over 20 years ago, was opened the past week and a fine grade of green oil found standing 200 feet in the well. The Bradford Company has leased several thousand acres of land there. It is composed mostly of Pennsylvania capitalists.

Catarrh is a Real Enemy and Requires Vigorous Treatment

Do Not Neglect It.
When you use medicated sprays, atomizers and douches for your Catarrh, you may succeed in unstopping the choked-up air passages for the time being, but this annoying condition returns, and you have to do the same thing over and over again. Catarrh has never yet been cured by these local applications. Have you ever experienced any real benefit from such treatment?

Throw these makeshift remedies to the winds, and get on the right treatment. Go to your drug store to-day, get a bottle of S. S. S., and commence a treatment that has been praised by sufferers for nearly half a century. S. S. S. gets right at the source of Catarrh, and forces from the blood the germs which cause the disease. You can obtain special medical advice regarding your own case without charge by writing to Medical Director, 22 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

McCombs Producing & Refining Co.

Producers, Transporters, Refiners, Marketers

An open letter from Chas. W. Bell, of Kentucky

Former State Insurance Commissioner and Noted Educator

January 9, 1919

Mr. Felix Renick, Secy.
McCombs Producing & Refining Co.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Dear Mr. Renick:

I have spent the last three days looking over the Lee County oil fields. Naturally I saved the best for the last and yesterday visited the Butcher-Hargis lease. To say that I was pleased is putting it very mildly. Of course everything is shot to pieces at the present, on account of the demoralization incident to the Holidays, the deep snow, the bitter cold, etc., but I found on your lease six drills running.

Butcher No. 4, yesterday morning, January 8, pumped a 250 barrel tank full in exactly two and one-half hours. I saw this with my own eyes and I know it to be true, and I learned from an independent gauger and others in no wise interested, that this same Butcher No. 4 was in the habit of doing that frequently. The pipe line cannot accommodate, as you know, this and your other wells.

I did not go into the country with anybody interested in your company, and I am more than satisfied with what I saw. You are at liberty to use my name at any time for what it is worth, and if there is anyone who doubts the worth of the Butcher-Hargis lease all he will have to do is to go and see what is being done there.

An old well-driller who has never been connected with your company, and who is now in the employment of the company adjacent to yours, told me that he considered this the most valuable piece of property in the Big Sinking district.

I congratulate the company and the stockholders on this piece of property.

Sincerely,

CHAS. W. BELL.

"OVER THE TOP,"

Sergeant Empey's Interesting Story of the War.

After four months in the hospital, I went before an examining board and was discharged from the service of his Britannic majesty as "physically unfit for further war service."

After my discharge I engaged passage on the American liner New York, and after a stormy trip across the Atlantic one momentous day, in the haze of early dawn, I saw the statue of liberty looming over the port rail, and I wondered if ever again I would go "over the top with the best of luck and give them hell."

And even then, though it may seem strange, I was really sorry not to be back in the trenches with my mates. War is not a pink tea, but in a worthwhile cause like ours, mud, rats, cooties, shells, wounds, or death itself, are far outweighed by the deep sense of satisfaction felt by the man who does his bit.

There is one thing which my experience taught me that might help the boy who may have to go. It is this—anticipation is far worse than realization. In civil life a man stands in awe of the man above him, wonders how he could ever fill his job. When the time comes he rises to the occasion, is up and at it, and is surprised to find how much more easily than he anticipated he fills his responsibilities. It is really so "out there."

He has nerve for the hardships; the interest of the work grips him; he finds relief in the fun and comradeship of the trenches and wins that best sort of happiness that comes with duty well done.

THE END.

If You Want To Sell Your Real Estate, Read This

I am publishing this adv. to ask those who desire to sell their farms to place them in my hands for sale. The fact is that I have sold all the farms I had—something like $200,000 since October 1st, and, naturally, I cannot stay in the real estate business unless I have real estate to sell. I also sell city property. I desire to thank my patrons for their business in the past.
